

OFFICIAIMAGING™

MAKING GREAT IMPRESSIONS

January 12, 2007

Dear Valued Customer,

The start of a New Year is always an exciting time. Without question, 2007 will be very exciting for Coast Imaging Systems and Copier Solutions. Back in May, we informed you that our two companies had come together creating a new high profile customer service focused organization. Since that time, we have made changes to better serve our San Diego customer base and support our service delivery focus.

Through this transition, our two groups of tenured employees have learned from each other and implemented new processes and procedures that enhance support for your organization's document storage, movement and print delivery.

To further enhance the opportunity for shared learning and teamwork, we decided to physically bring our teams together. Today, I am pleased to announce that we have moved into a beautiful new facility centrally located in Kearny Mesa. You can now find us at: 7323 Engineer Road, San Diego, CA 92111.

We also realized that the name of our organization should better reflect the solutions we bring to our customers. As part of our New Year and move celebration, we are excited to introduce our new company name: OFFICIA IMAGING, INC.

This new name gives all our employees and our family of customers, an opportunity to examine how a professional organization, using proven document imaging technology, can really simplify the mystery of document copying, printing, imaging, scanning, security and storage.

As a San Diego resident and owner of the company, our reputation and the quality of services we deliver, directly reflects on each of our employees. We care a great deal about providing a positive experience with Officia Imaging. When you call Officia Imaging, you'll get a real person to answer your call, someone excited about the company they work for—and can't wait to tell you.
